

THE NATIONAL GRID OF IRELAND
INCIDENCE OF GRID LETTERS

Magenta numbered grid ticks in the margin represent the National Reference System of Ireland. It is shown in order to facilitate the reporting of positions for military purposes and is not to be used for navigation. The last three digits of the grid numbers are omitted. The ticks can be joined across to form the National Grid. Grid reference must give the EAST reading first, followed by the NORTH reading, e.g. Wicklow Head Lt T3492.
